ARCHITECTURAL

polytec's Architectural range of products equips architects, designers and product specifiers with an exclusive and groundbreaking catalogue of decorative panels to bring head-turning designs to fruition.

Inspired by industrial raw materials but without the constraints of weight or complex installation - the imi-beton range is aptly touted as 'concrete for the carpenter'. imi-beton is exclusive to polytec in Australia. polytec's imi-beton MDF board is an aerated concrete finish on a 3mm MDF substrate that's available in two colours. imi-beton provides a true raw concrete appearance without the need for reinforcing steel, curing and casting. A lightweight alternative to concrete, imi-beton MDF board is suited to internal applications such as wall cladding, reception counters, retail shop front facades, trade fair construction design, hotel foyers and more.

polytec's Chromaboard is a surface material noted for its colour throughout the MDF panel. Chromaboard is suited to routing and further embellishment using varnish, wax, or other finishes to create unique effects, without the need for sanding. Unsurprisingly, Chromaboard is specified for commercial and retail projects that aim to transcend the ordinary.
